

- local non-profits working together for the good of the community
- FREE “green” documentaries show Wednesdays at 7pm from February 2 - March 23
- panel discussion offering audience participation to follow each film
- films show at The Showroom, 149 S. Daniel Morgan Ave. in downtown Spartanburg

February 2nd - No Impact Man is the story of one man’s effort to completely eliminate his personal impact on the environment for an entire year. Look inside the experiment that became a national fascination and media sensation.

February 9th - Ingredients explores a thriving local food movement as our world becomes a more flavorless, disconnected and dangerous place to eat. The movie reveals the movement to bring good food back to the table and health back to communities.

February 16th - Flow: For Love of Water examines the harsh realities behind the mounting water crisis. Learn how politics, pollution and human rights are intertwined in this important issue that affects every being on Earth.

February 23rd - Dirt! The Movie is a vision of a sustainable relationship between humans and dirt offering profiles of the global visionaries who are determined to preserve the living skin of the earth for future generations.

March 2nd - Food Stamped is an informative and humorous film that follows a couple attempting to eat a healthy, well-balanced diet on a food stamp budget. Activists, experts, politicians, and ordinary people are consulted.

March 9th - The Bicycle Thief is the tale of an unemployed man in the depressed post-World War II economy of Italy who finds a job on the condition that he has a bicycle to use for work. After the bike is stolen, he sets out with his son in tow to catch the thief.

March 16th - Coal Country offers the truth about modern coal mining told by the people directly involved, both working miners and activists who are battling the coal companies in Appalachia. Families and communities are split over mountaintop removal.

March 23rd - Walden: The Ballad of Thoreau is about the final two days Henry David Thoreau spent in his cabin before leaving Walden Pond. The film encourages balanced protection of nature while reflecting Thoreau’s passionate love for it. The film is hosted by activist/folksinger, Michael Johnathon. Michael will also be giving a performance at the Showroom on Thursday, March 24th.

FOR FULL DESCRIPTIONS, LINKS AND MORE INFORMATION VISIT HUB-BUB.COM

Upstate Forever

